

A WEEKEND IN THE JURA

12 -13 June 2010 / branch meeting / guests are welcome

The programme includes dinosaur footprints, specific karstic features such as caves, lapiaz, reculées, tuff cascade. We will pay a visit to the Mont Rivel which bears a quarry interesting for fossil hunting, and an ancient roman site at the top. And we will study the relation between rock and wine.

Travel arrangements: Please find your own way to Arbois, Mesney, the TGV train (Paris Lausanne) stops 10 miles away at MOUCHARD, and a pickup can be organised. The Lyon-Strasbourg train can also be used.

Accommodation: I would be more than pleased to welcome the ones who would like to stay in a hostel as I will turn my house into one. Camping on the lawn is also an option.

But for the ones who seek some more comfort there are lovely hotels around:
